Barclays Launches New iPath® Optimized Currency Carry Exchange Traded Note

With this new iPath® ETN a long/short currency strategy can be implemented by investors others than institutions

New York, NY (March 28, 2008) – Barclays Bank PLC announced that today is the first day of trading for the iPath® Optimized Currency Carry Exchange Traded Note (ETN) on the NYSE-Arca Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol ICI. This is the first iPath® ETN to provide investors with a cost effective way to capitalize on inefficiencies in the currency market and gain diversified currency exposure to help reduce portfolio risk.

“The iPath® Optimized Currency Carry ETN offers investors the opportunity to invest in a diversified basket of currencies in a transparent and cost efficient way with the ease of trading on an exchange,” said Philippe El-Asmar, Managing Director, Head of Solution Sales, Americas, at Barclays Capital.

This new iPath® ETN is linked to the performance of the Barclays Intelligent Carry Index™, which is designed to reflect the total return of an “Intelligent Carry Strategy” which seeks to capture the potential return from a strategy of investing in high yielding currencies with the exposure financed by borrowings in low-yielding currencies. The pool of currencies to which the index may apply these strategies is commonly referred to as the “G10 currencies” and includes the U.S. dollar (USD), the euro (EUR), the Japanese yen (JPY), the Canadian dollar (CAD), the Swiss franc (CHF), the British pound sterling (GBP), the Australian dollar (AUD), the New Zealand dollar (NZD), the Norwegian krone (NOK) and the Swedish krona (SEK). The index is composed of ten cash-settled currency forward agreements, one for each index constituent currency, as well as a “Hedged USD Overnight Index” which is intended to reflect the performance of a risk-free U.S. dollar-denominated asset.
Institutional investors have used the "carry trade" strategy to buy currencies in regions with high interest rates, while shorting currencies in countries having low interest rates in the hope of capturing returns. In addition to capitalizing on the carry trade strategy, exposure to currencies can provide investors with a historically non-correlated asset to add to a portfolio, something that has grown increasingly valuable as global markets and economies have grown increasingly interdependent.

The iPath® Optimized Currency Carry ETN is a senior, unsecured, unsubordinated debt security linked to the performance of the Barclays Intelligent Carry Index™ and issued by Barclays Bank PLC. iPath® ETNs are designed to provide investors with convenient access to the returns of market benchmarks, less investor fees. Subject to the requirements described in the applicable prospectus, the securities can be sold in the secondary market during trading hours at market prices, and may be redeemed in at least 50,000 units on a daily basis directly to the Issuer*.

The prospectus can be found on EDGAR, the SEC website at: www.sec.gov, as well as on the product website at www.iPathETN.com.

Several Barclays companies have worked together in order to create this innovative product. Barclays Bank PLC is the issuer and the index owner; Barclays Capital Inc. is the issuer’s agent and Barclays Global Investors Services (BGIS), an affiliate, assists in the promotion of iPath® ETNs to intermediaries.

Investing in the Securities is not equivalent to direct investment in index or index components. The investor fee will reduce the amount of your return at maturity or on redemption, and as a result you may receive less than the principal amount of your investment at maturity or upon redemption of your Securities even if the value of the relevant index has increased. An investment in iPath ETNs may not be suitable for all investors.

Commissions may apply and there are tax consequences in the event of sale, redemption or maturity of Securities. Sales in the secondary market may result in significant losses.

iPath ETNs typically have lower investor fees than currently existing mutual funds that invest in similar markets and are available to retail investors. Buying and selling iPath ETNs will result in brokerage commissions.

An investment in iPath ETNs linked to the performance of the Barclays Intelligent Carry Index™ is subject to risks associated with fluctuations, particularly a decline, in the value of the index.
