Barclays Bank PLC Announces Extension of Cash Tender Offer and Consent Solicitation

New York, August 5, 2020 – Barclays Bank PLC (the “Issuer”) announced today that it has extended the expiration date of its previously announced cash tender offer (the “Offer”) to purchase any and all of its iPath® MSCI India Index ETNs due December 18, 2036 (CUSIP: 06739F291/ISIN: US06739F2911) (the “Notes” or “ETNs”) and solicitation of consents (the “Consent Solicitation”) from holders of the Notes (the “Noteholders”) to amend certain provision of the Notes (the “Proposed Amendment”), subject to applicable offer and distribution restrictions.

The Notes have been determined to be subject to certain regulations issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”) relating to offshore derivative instruments linked to Indian equity securities, and SEBI has advised the Issuer that the positions being held in the Notes may continue only until December 31, 2020. Please refer to the press release dated July 6, 2020 for further details on the Offer and Consent Solicitation.

The Offer and Consent Solicitation were previously scheduled to expire at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on August 4, 2020 and will instead expire at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on September 1, 2020, unless further extended or early terminated by the Issuer, in which case notification to that effect will be given by or on behalf of the Issuer in accordance with the methods set out in the Statement.

In addition, the purchase price of the Notes, which originally reflected a 2% premium, has been increased to reflect a 4% premium to the Closing Indicative Note Value of the Notes (the “Premium Payment”) on September 1, 2020 (the “Expiration Date”). If a Noteholder has already validly tendered and not withdrawn its Notes pursuant to the original Offer, such Noteholder is not required to take any further action with respect to such Notes and such tender constitutes a valid tender for purposes of the Offer, as amended and restated, which is eligible for the new 4% premium to the Closing Indicative Note Value of the Notes on the Expiration Date.

Unless the Offer is extended or early terminated by the Issuer, the Purchase Price will be publicly announced by the Issuer by press release and will be available at www.ipathetn.com/inptf and from D.F. King & Co., Inc., at or prior to approximately 1:00 p.m., New York City time, on the Expiration Date. In addition, on each Trading Day while the Offer remains open, the indicative Purchase Price, as well as the closing level of the Index and the Closing Indicative Note Value, will be published by 4:30 p.m., New York City time, at www.ipathetn.com/inptf and will also be available from the Information Agent. The indicative Purchase Price on any Trading Day will be equal to 104% of the Closing Indicative Note Value on that Trading Day.

The Offer and Consent Solicitation are being made on the terms and subject to the conditions and restrictions set out in the Amended and Restated Offer to Purchase and Consent Solicitation Statement dated August 5, 2020 (which may be further amended or supplemented from time to time, the “Statement”). Noteholders who validly tender (and do not validly withdraw) their Notes will be deemed to have consented to the Proposed Amendment under the Consent Solicitation.

The Issuer reserves the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, not to accept any tender instructions, not to purchase Notes or to extend, re-open, withdraw or terminate the Offer and Consent Solicitation and to amend or waive any of the terms and conditions of the Offer and Consent Solicitation in any manner, subject to applicable laws and regulations.

Capitalized terms used and not otherwise defined in this announcement have the meanings given in the Statement.

Selected Risk Considerations

An investment in the iPath ETNs described herein involves risks. Selected risks are summarized here, but we urge you to read the more detailed explanation of risks described under "Risk Factors" in the applicable prospectus supplement and pricing supplement.

You May Lose Some or All of Your Principal: The ETNs are exposed to any decrease in the level of the underlying index between the inception date and the applicable valuation date. Additionally, if the level of the underlying index is insufficient to offset the negative effect of the investor fee and other applicable costs, you will lose some or all of your investment at maturity or upon redemption, even if the value of such index level has increased or decreased, as the case may be. Because the ETNs are subject to an investor fee and other applicable costs, the return on the ETNs will always be lower than the total return on a direct investment in the index components. The ETNs are riskier than ordinary unsecured debt securities and have no principal protection.

Credit of Barclays Bank PLC: The ETNs are unsecured debt obligations of the issuer, Barclays Bank PLC, and are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of or guaranteed by any third party. Any payment to be made on the ETNs, including any payment at maturity or upon redemption, depends on the ability of Barclays Bank PLC to satisfy its obligations as they come due. As a result, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of Barclays Bank PLC will affect the market value, if any, of the ETNs prior to maturity or redemption. In addition, in the event Barclays Bank PLC were to default on its obligations, you may not receive any amounts owed to you under the terms of the ETNs.

Market and Volatility Risk: The market value of the ETNs may be influenced by many unpredictable factors and may fluctuate between the date you purchase them and the maturity date or redemption date. You may also sustain a significant loss if you sell your ETNs in the secondary market. Factors that may influence the market value of the ETNs include prevailing market prices of the U.S. stock markets, the index components included in the underlying index, and prevailing market prices of options on such index or any other financial instruments related to such index; and supply and demand for the ETNs, including economic, financial, political, regulatory, geographical or judicial events that affect the level of such index or other financial instruments related to such index.

Emerging Market Risk: The MSCI India Total Return Index tracks investments in an emerging market, which carries the risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, differences in generally accepted accounting principles, lower trading volumes, and economic or political instability. ETNs linked to such index may be subject to more volatility than investments outside of emerging markets.

Concentration Risk: Because the ETNs are a concentrated investment in a single country, the ETNs may be more volatile than other investments.

A Trading Market for the ETNs May Not Develop: Although the ETNs are listed on a U.S. national securities exchange, a trading market for the ETNs may not develop and the liquidity of the ETNs may be limited, as we are not required to maintain any listing of the ETNs.

No Interest Payments from the ETNs: You may not receive any interest payments on the ETNs.

Uncertain Tax Treatment: Significant aspects of the tax treatment of the ETNs are uncertain. You should consult your own tax advisor about your own tax situation.

The ETNs may be sold throughout the day on the exchange through any brokerage account. Commissions may apply and there are tax consequences in the event of sale, redemption or maturity of ETNs.
